PUNTERS DO WELL AT FIRST EXTRA RACE MEETING.

FAVOURITES SHARE HONOURS WITH OUTSIDERS:
SOME HANDSOME DIVIDENDS PAID
BY THE TOTE.

JOCKEY SUSPENDED FOLLOWING ACCIDENT IN SIXTH RACE.

FULL DETAILS OF SATURDAY'S RACING.

[By "MORNING DEW."]

The outstanding feature of the First "Extra" Race Meeting was the satisfactory odds paid by the tote. Punters varied in their fancy considerably, with the result that some very handsome dividends were paid.

Amusement Tax, for instance, a pony "tipped" to win in this paper, paid his supporters over 10-1. Erin's Isle paid 17-1 and King's Colour in the last race paid his supporters 19-1. Place dividends were also satisfactory.

Adam won the First Extra Meeting Stakes, the principal event on the card. The field of five which faced the starter in this race over the mile chose to make a shorter race of it and the result was that the times registered for the opening quarters were slow. Chesapeake Bay got second place, beating Majestic Hall, who was very well fancied.

In the sixth race, Mr. Y. M. Loo on Empress Hall was badly thrown, sustaining injuries to his head and neck. He did not get up for a time but was later able to return to the jockeys' room with assistance. Mr. Ho Sai Man, who broke his stirrups in this race, was also thrown.

An inquiry was held into the riding in this race and as a result Mr. R. H. Charles was suspended from riding for the rest of this month.

THE RACING.

Happy Valley Handicap "A" Class.

Ten ponies faced the starter here, a notable absentee being Boxing Eve. Winsome Stag was another pony conspicuous by his absence. The only other animal which I mentioned in my "tips" was the Duke of Chantilly, who won.

Picallili, was a hot favourite and flattered his supporters when he led after the first quarter of a mile, and kept the lead until the straight was reached. Here he was passed by African Eve, who in turn was passed by the Duke of Chantilly, the latter being a length and half to the good, when the winning post was reached. San Francisco, coming up with a great burst of speed at the end, deprived the favourite of the third place.

February Stakes: Five Furlongs.

Twenty-one subs who have not won this season, went out here. Thracian, Snaefell, Duncie and Iron Blood were about the best-supported. A straggling start saw Thracian well away in front with Iron Blood in close attendance.

The latter took the lead, but entering the straight Thracian forged ahead and was never passed. Meanwhile, Snaefell dashed through deprived Iron Blood of second place by a neck.

Henceforth was a victim of the start, the pony actually facing the wrong way when the flag fell. Hong Kong Beau was another of those who were left.

Happy Valley Handicap "B" Class.

Tarmacadam with only 144 lbs. on the saddle was made an "odds-on" favourite in this race and he now without effort! The Ape was second, being three lengths behind the winner and half a length in front of Monk.

There were actually eighteen starters, but after the first furlong, it was obvious that there was nothing to touch Tarmacadam. The Albatross (167 lbs.) tried to set the pace, but after the Rock was reached, was no longer in the picture. The Ape came up nicely in the last few strides, and after a gruelling tussle deprived Monk of second place by half a length.

First Extra Meeting Stakes: One Mile.

Adam and Majestic Hall started in this race with three others, Chesapeake Bay, Ma Kau Sinc and Fair Sport. The last two were obviously running out of their class.

The race proved disappointing. The jockeys made a slow race of the first half mile. After the Rock the field was well-bunched, but at the village Adam drew away, while Majestic Hall and Chesapeake Bay both waited a little longer. Adam romped all the way home, gaining ground, while Chesapeake Bay and Majestic Hall lingered. When these two were at last given "the bit," they set to their work in earnest, both catching up on Adam, but neither passing the John Peel representative. Chesapeake Bay was still wanting two lengths at the end of the race. Majestic Hall was a length behind Chesapeake Bay.

Happy Valley Handicap "C" Class.

Amusement Tax (tipped in this paper to win) won this event and paid his supporters over 10-1. There were seventeen starters but Amusement Tax (Lain) and Zephyr (Heard) drew away from the rest of the field in the straight and after an exciting race, the former won by a short head.

Two lengths behind the leaders there was another interesting struggle between Piciey (Mr. Bulteel) and Duke of Normandy (Mr. Frost). So close was their race that the judges awarded a dead heat for third place.

Aberdeen Plate: One Mile.

There were ten starters here. Abel began by giving trouble but Mr. Heard eventually made the pony to behave properly, and the field got well away together. Abel took the lead followed by Empress Hall. The Tiger, Silver Queen and Gay Caballero. Before the five furlong post was reached, Gay Caballero seemed to have got out of control and the next thing seen was Mr. Y. M. Loo being thrown off Empress Hall.

At the Rock, The Tiger took the lead and coming into the straight, Lobster Bay challenged the leader, but could make no impression on him. The Tiger won by a length and a half. Lobster Bay was half a length better than Silver Queen. Mr. Ho Sai Man was thrown in the straight by Shiny Pearl.

After the race, it was ascertained that Mr. Loo, while not seriously injured was badly cut about the neck and face, while his body also showed many bruises. Mr. Ho Sai Man was thrown after losing both his stirrups when the accident to Mr. Y. M. Loo took place. An official of the Jockey Club stated to Press representatives that:-

The Stewards held an inquiry into the riding and as a result suspended Mr. R. H. Charles from riding for the rest of the month.

Stanley Stakes: One Mile.

Tonbridge, Tanco, Done Again and Bridge Hall were expected to fight this race out. Mr. Heard on Done Again looked as if he was going to work the trick at one time, the pony being very confidently held back over the earlier stages of the race, but he disappointed in the last half mile and never looked a danger to the winner.

Tonbridge won, but over the last furlong of the race he had a neck to neck race with Tanco. The last named appeared to have had the race in hand at the distance post, catching up steadily on Tonbridge. At the mile post there was not a head between the ponies and still Tango kept creeping up. Here both jockeys applied the whip, and Mr. Bulteel managed to get more response out of Tonbridge than Mr. Harriman out of Tanco. The race was as thrilling a one as can be imagined, and the official verdict was that Tonbridge won by a head, though it looked more like half a head to the excited punters. Bridge Hall was third.

Wanchai Handicap "B" Class.

From a field of eight ponies, The Pheasant was made a hot favourite. He was disposed of by Erin's Isle a little fancied animal who paid his supporters 17-1 for a win.

City Hall, the ex-Derby winner, cracked the pace, but it was obvious to everyone that he was finished after the first half mile. Here Monk and King's Falloch began to move up with The Jamaica and The Pheasant within striking distance. After the Rock, The Pheasant took the lead followed by King's Falloch and the two ponies entered the straight together. Here Erin's Isle came forward to challenge the leaders. He disposed of King's Falloch and then fought it out with the Pheasant, beating him by half a length at the finish. King's Falloch put on a last minute burst of speed and came within half a length of The Pheasant to take third place.

Wanchai Handicap "A" Class.

There were ten starters in the last race of the day and again Mr. Roza's mount was made favourite. Carnival Eve led strongly at the outset and at one time promised to run away with the race. Up the incline, however he weakened and was passed by King's Colour, who was never headed again, though from time to time several ponies came very close. Carnival Eve made a second effort in the straight and all but caught up King's Colour at one stage, but a hundred yards from home, King's Colour slowly drew away from the big spotted roan and was half a length to the good at the end.

Misty Eve, Mr. Reidy up, took third place.

LEATRICE JOY IN "NOBODY'S WIDOW"

You'll learn about women—and widows—when you see this sparkling comedy.

MAJESTIC

Nathan Road, Kowloon.

HUMOUR: ANCIENT AND MODERN.

Young Author (casually): "It was written in my odd moments."
Editor: "Could I see something you've written in your lucid intervals?"

Captain: "Come on in. It's the lunch interval, you know."
Umpire: "Oi dursn't walk past that there lady sittin' over there. Oi be wearin' 'er nightgown wot she sent the missus to wash for 'er!"

Mine Host (looking at the shoe): "Yes, we get a large number of honeymoon couples during the year."

Bridegroom (lying glibly): "Wrong again, old chap. As a matter of fact, we couldn't find room for that shoe in the luggage."

The farmer owned fields on each side of the golf links. It so happened that he was taking a short cut from one to another when the club's worst member was addressing the ball.

The worst member wagged his driver to and fro for several minutes missed four swings, and finally managed to hit the ball about a dozen feet. Then he glanced up and saw the farmer.

"I say," he protested, "only golfers are allowed on this course, you know."

The farmer nodded.

"I do know," he replied. "But I won't say nothin' if you don't."

New Lodger (a flatterer): "You look like an educated woman."
Landlady: "I am if you pay regularly, but if not, I can be very uneducated."

Prospective Employer: "Are you one of those girls who watch the clock?"
Fair Applicant: "Oh, no, not at all. I have a wrist watch."

"Is the steak ready now, dear?"
"I'm sorry I'm so long, George, but it looked hopeless grilled and it doesn't look much better fried, but if you'll be patient a little bit longer I'll see what boiling does to it."

She was giving an order to the grocer.

"And I require some cheese," she said.

"Yes, miss," replied the grocer, smiling amiably; "I have some lovely cheese."

"You should not say 'lovely cheese,'" said the customer severely.

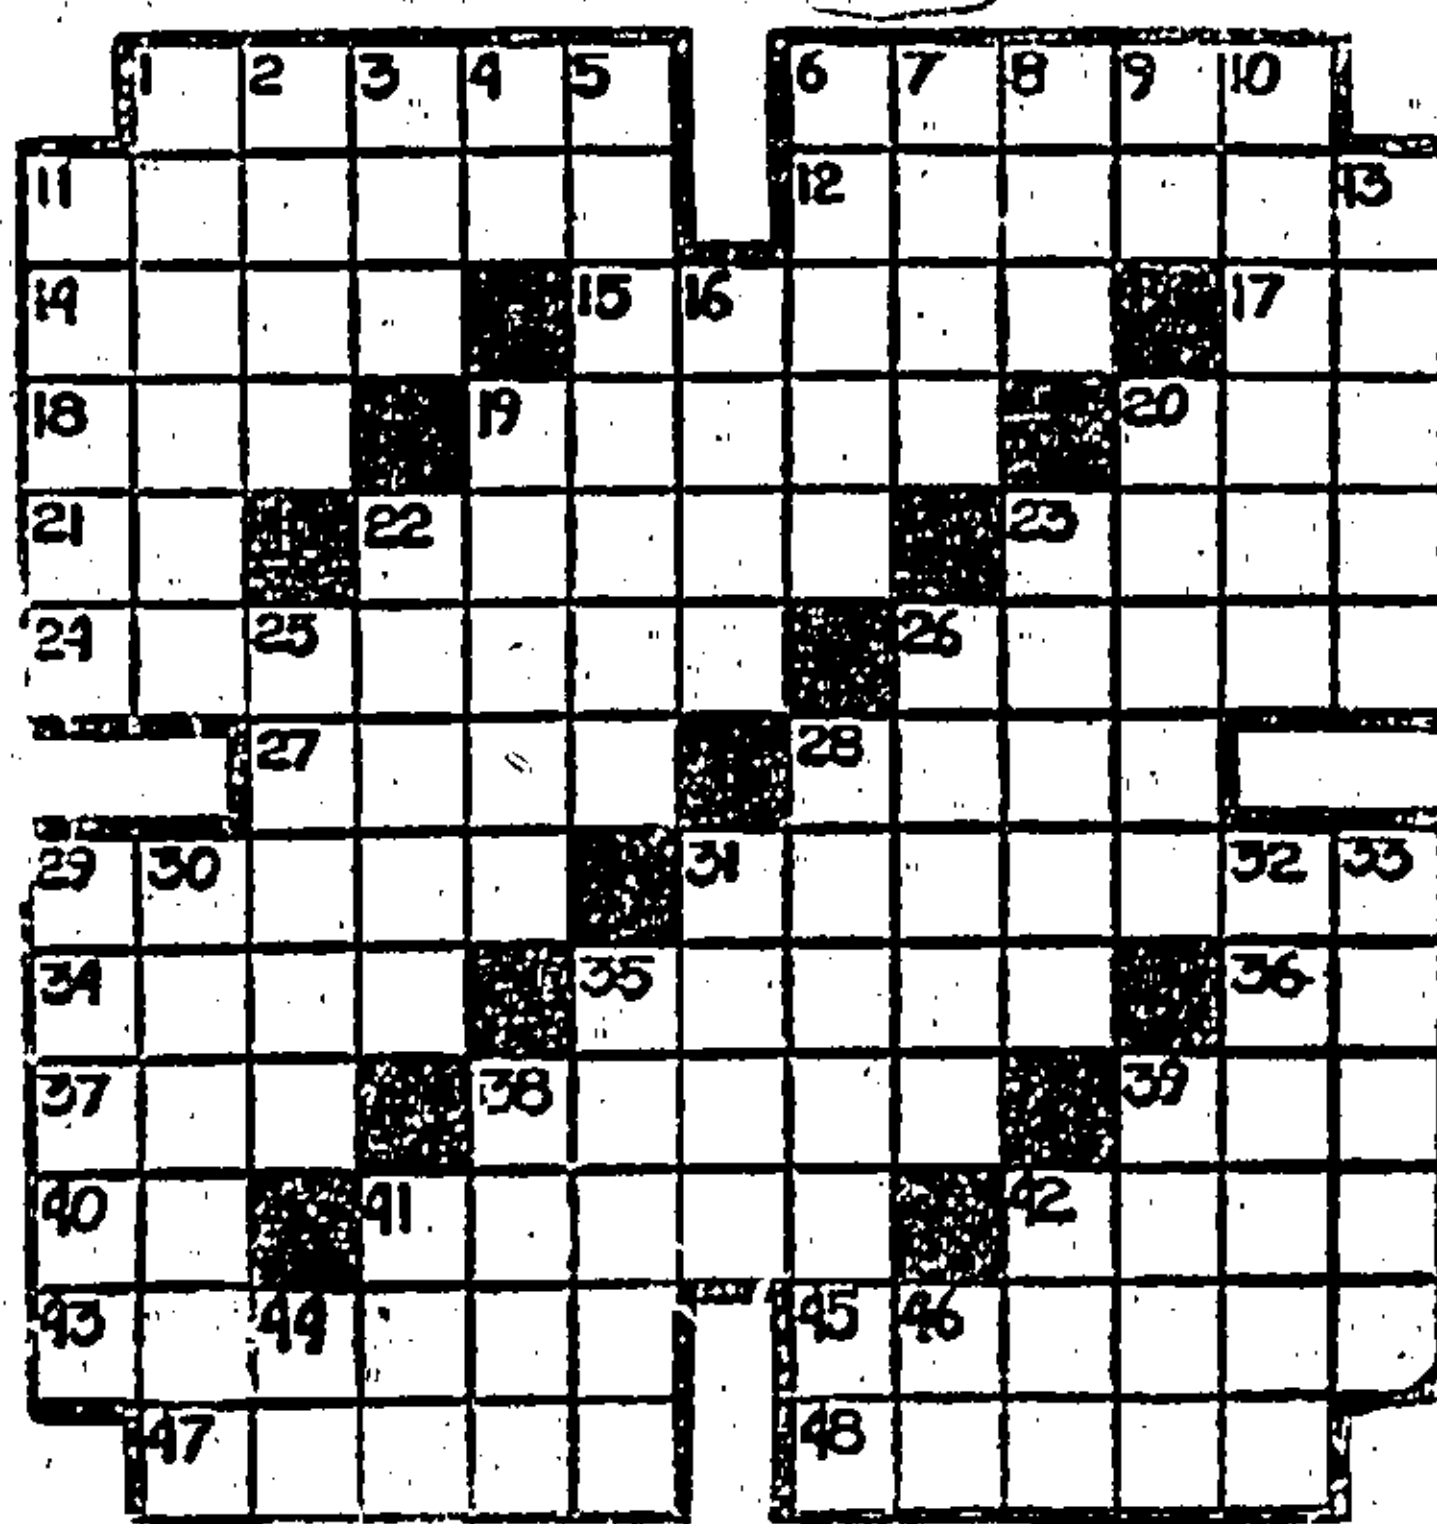

"But why not Miss? It is lovely cheese!"

"Because," she tried to combine maidenly modesty with an air of learning, "because lovely should only be used to qualify something that is alive."

The grocer's smile broadened as he glanced at the Gorgonzola.

"Well, miss," he said, "I'll stick to 'lovely'!"

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

DERBY COUNTY SECURE THE LEADERSHIP.

SHEFFIELD WEDNESDAY LOSE AT LEICESTER.

TORQUAY SCORE SEVEN GOALS.

The top position in Division I. of the English League, held for a long time by Sheffield Wednesday, changed hands on Saturday owing to their defeat at Leicester, and the victory of their close competitors, Derby County, who beat Blackburn. Aston Villa won two matches during the week and secured a higher place. Everton, however, lost two matches and dropped almost to the bottom of the League table. Huddersfield lost to Sunderland.

League teams in other Divisions were successful and there were no changes of importance. Torquay created a big surprise by their victory over Bournemouth by seven goals.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY.

It will be remembered that some weeks ago it was decided to establish in Hong Kong a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. That step being enthusiastically agreed upon at a public meeting, the next thing to do was to collect funds to enable the Society to function. As a result of some personal canvassing by those keenly interested in the work, over $2,000 has been raised in subscriptions and donations, but much more is needed in order that the work contemplated may be even attempted, much less accomplished. Money is urgently required in order to get things going at an early date, and meanwhile the Executive Committee of the Society gratefully acknowledges receipt of the under-mentioned subscriptions and donations:

HEATED SCENE IN CONGRESS.

SENATORS DESCRIBED AS "THOSE ANIMALS."

[UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, February 21.—In the midst of the tariff battle being waged to-day, Representative Allen T. Treadway of Massachusetts, Republican, alleged that an "independent coalition" is prolonging consideration of the long-drawn-out Tariff Bill.

Congressman Treadway's remarks were heated, and in the course of them he referred to the independent Western Republican Senators as "those animals."

Immediately Representative Royal C. Johnson of South Dakota arose and "berated him, reviving the famous 'sons of wild jackasses' label applied some time ago to the Westerners, and bitterly opposing such descriptions."

Representative Johnson alleged that the New England high tariff men of the House of Representatives have been "jacking up sugar and shoe rates" so high as to make necessary a long fight in the Senate.

Increased Duty on Dried Eggs.
Washington, February 21.—A vote of interest to China was taken by the Senate to-day when, in considering the Tariff Bill, it adopted the Howell Resolution increasing the duty on dried eggs from 18 to 30 cents.

This action, which affects practically no foreign exporter save China, completed the agricultural schedule of the tariff.

Funds are urgently needed, and the Society are earnestly requested to forward subscriptions or donations to one or other of the under-mentioned:

The Hon. Treasurer, Mr. Li Hoi Tung, c/o Messrs. Banker & Co., 4, Queen's Road, Central.

LADIES' HOCKEY. HONG KONG BEAT KOWLOON.

In a fast and even game at King's Park on Saturday, the Hong Kong Ladies' Hockey Club scored a 3-1 victory over the Kowloon ladies, and have, incidentally, drawn level with the Kowloonites in the Cnr Clark Cup competition. The replay will take place shortly, when another exciting game is promised. Kowloon started off in dashing fashion and before many minutes had passed they scored their first goal through Miss Mason. The Hong Kong team were not in the least discouraged and shortly after Miss Stanion, the H.K. skipper ran through to score a fine goal. This was followed by two more goals by the same player and the Hong Kong forwards then figured in some clever moves down the wing. The Kowloon ladies then asserted themselves and a good centre from Miss Eastman was well taken by Miss Mason who netted her second goal.

Hong Kong Win.
The second half saw the Hong Kong ladies working very hard and they added further goals through Miss Smalley and Mrs. Donellan. Nothing daunted the Kowloon eleven returned to the attack and Miss Mason scored two goals—making her total four. Play then showed down somewhat and the final whistle went with the score: Hong Kong 5; Kowloon 4. The teams were:—
H.K. Ladies' Hockey Club.—J. Smalley, E. Gray, F. D. C. Luck, E. R. Bell, B. M. Pope, M. L. Wallace, I. C. Bell, E. M. Donellan, D. F. Stanion, M. Smalley, N. McCabe. Referee, Captain A. A. Nicholas.
Kowloon Ladies' Hockey Club.—M. Mason, M. Woolley, N. Field, M. George, E. Woolley, M. Groundwater, V. Eastman, P. Whitley, A. Dyer, D. Pinquet, E. Woolley. Referee: C. C. Francis.

LOCAL RIDER FOR T.T. RACES? FIVE MOTOR CYCLIST TRIED OUT.

Yesterday morning a band of five local motorcyclist were given test of riding ability over a small pathway leading from Wong Nei Cheong to Tytan Reservoir. The tests were made in connection with the offer for a local rider to compete in the T.T. races in the Isle of Man in June. Each rider made two trips over the course, under observation, and very good times were put for the twist and narrow pathway about two miles long. No statement has yet been made with regard to the offer, but the Hong Kong Automobile Association's decision will be announced later. The riders who competed were Messrs: F. Zimmer (Rudge) Geo. Lynn (Norton) R. Whitehall (Norton), J. Hirst (Norton) and T. Whitley (A.J.S.).

[REUTERS' AMERICAN SERVICE.]
NEW YORK March 7. Lord Aberdare, the noted British sporting peer, won the American National Tennis singles championship to-day, defeating the young Boston player, F. P. Frazier, in the final, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 7-5. Lord Aberdare's championship is the real tennis title, not the lawn tennis title.

LESSON SERMON. FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST HONG KONG.

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 9. The Golden Text was: "Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and comest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple" (Ps 65: 4). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him, male and female created he them" (Gen. 1: 1, 26, 27). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In Science man is the offspring of Spirit. The beautiful, good, and pure constitute his ancestry. Spirit is his primitive and ultimate source of being; God is his Father, and Life is the law of his being" (p. 63).

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE. CONCERT BY AMBULANCE DIVISION.

An excellent concert was given in the Li Shek Pang Hall of St. Joseph's College on Saturday, in aid of the College Division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. The programme included vocal and instrumental items, dancing and acting. The popular Hawaiian Serenaders were responsible for several Chinese music, played by Mr. Chao and friends, was the opening item and was much enjoyed. Little Miss Chiu with her "Chinese Song" and delightful miming certainly was one of the successes of the evening. Master F. Abraham played his violin solos very well indeed and, much laughter greeted the Chinese sketch of troublesome school children, which was given by five members of the Ambulance Brigade. The Misses Stella and Helen Ho danced, as usual, very charmingly.

A MOTHER'S PLEA! REVENUE OFFICER SCEPTICAL OF HER "INNOCENCE."

When charged with possession of 11 tael of illicit opium in her premises at 104 Hollywood Road, a Chinese woman pleaded guilty before Mr. R. E. Linsell at the Central Magistracy on Saturday, and asked for leniency. She had a small daughter dependent on her and it was her first offence. His Worship: Where did you get the opium?—A seaman brought it to me. Why did you agree to keep it?—I was offered $5 to keep the drug for two hours. A revenue officer arrived before that period was up. Revenue Officer Grimmett informed His Worship that the house appeared to be full of hiding places. A fine of $1,500 or six months' imprisonment was imposed on defendant.

"BIG BILL" THOMPSON'S MUDDLE. CHICAGO CITY EMPLOYEES RECEIVE MONTH'S SALARY.

[UNITED PRESS.]
Chicago, March 3.—Long-unpaid employees of the virtually bankrupt city of Chicago to-day received a month's pay on a basis of the special fund raised by the Citizens' Committee headed by Silas Strawn. It was simultaneously announced that the committee is continuing its work of raising money, but that it is now practically assured of sufficient funds to tide the city over until new taxes are made available next July. Policemen, firemen, teachers, nurses and court and other employees have been unpaid to an amount in excess of $812,000,000 while there are additional questions of mothers' pensions, coal for schools and other city and county institutions, unsecured debts totaling $21,000,000 and a floating debt of $270,000,000 secured by short-term notes and outstanding judgments totalling $6,000,000 against the city.

As no real estate taxes have been collected since 1928 and three-quarters of all the taxes of Chicago and Cook County come from real estate, when bankers declined Mayor William Hale Thompson's plea that they should purchase further advance-tax warrants the plight of the city became desperate and solution was found only by aid of the Strawn Committee which assumed the quality of a receivership with full control of expenditures to make sure they were not wasted or stolen.

The State Tax Commission in 1928 ordered a reassessment of Cook County and the work is still in progress, tentative figures showing a reduction of $400,000,000 in Chicago and an increase of $300,000,000 in the smaller suburban towns. The latter are fighting this increase and meanwhile real estate taxes cannot be collected before summer.

INDIAN REGALIA FOR COOLIDGE. PART OF CEREMONY IN THE DEDICATION OF NEW DAM.

[UNITED PRESS.]
Globe, Ariz., March 3.—Mr. Calvin Coolidge will once more don Indian regalia and face the Press cameras to-morrow. When he did this as part of his Black Hills vacation from the Presidency two years ago, it brought a considerable measure of ridicule because it was interpreted as a publicity "stunt" ill adapted to the somewhat dour Coolidge character. But indications are that to-morrow's ceremonies will be popular all around, for they are planned as part of the dedication of the Coolidge Dam—a project expected to bring great benefit to this part of the country. Indians, pioneers and prospectors have flocked into Globe for the festivities and they will compose a colourful group of spectators when the Pima Indians conduct their ceremonial making the former President a chief of their tribe.

SCOTLAND YARD'S NEW PROBLEM. WOMEN MORE CLEVER THAN MEN.

More and more women, official statistics reveal, are taking part in recent criminal developments, such as country-mansion raids and street handbag-snatching.

For nearly two years, Scotland Yard inquiries have established, the number of these women criminals has steadily increased.

A police official discussing the problem said:— "It is not only the increase in the number of women criminals we have to contend with, but the fact that the majority of them have considerable ability."

"They have improved by ten times on the old methods still practised by men confederates. Unlike the men, they are not satisfied with one type of crime; they try their hand at everything."

"If this state of affairs continues crime in this country may assume a different aspect within a few years."

Two women, for whom Scotland Yard are searching, act as "acorns" for a gang of motor bandits. When the gang halt in a lane near a residence which promises a safe haven, the women reconnoitre in the grounds to find the best way of entering the house and the quickest method of getting away. Then they return to the car and act as guides to their men confederates.

The Birmingham Corporation, which owns the largest municipally controlled fleet of buses in the world, will purchase the whole of its petrol requirements for 1930, amounting to 3,020,000 gallons, from Russian Oil Products, Ltd. This is the first time in many years that the Birmingham Corporation has given the whole of its contract to one firm. Other Midland corporations purchasing Russian oils include Burslem and Crewe. Soviet oil imports into Great Britain have grown from 123,000,000 gallons in 1929 to well over 200,000,000 gallons in 1930.

TWO-DAY FLIGHT OF R.100.

"FLEW THE DISTANCE TO EGYPT."

Major G. H. Scott, the commander of R.100, described the fifty-three hour flight of the airship when she moored at Cardington after having cruised for more than 3,000 miles last month.

"We had no trouble whatever on the trip," said Major Scott, "and the ship behaved finely on her turning test at different speeds and at different rudder angles."

"Some of these tests were made round the Eddystone Lighthouse, where there was a mist-free patch."

70-M.P.H. Maximum.

"Our average speed was fifty miles an hour and the maximum seventy, although then we were not going 'all out'."

"Most of our trip was among clouds too high to top, although we ascended to 5,500 feet over Oxford to-day."

"I personally have never had so long a flight on which I saw so little of the ground."

"We all had good rests, and regular four-hour watches were kept. Navigation was by radio directional apparatus, but occasionally we were able to take drift measurements when the ground was visible."

"It was rather cold aloft in spite of our electric heaters, but the heat from the kitchen improved matters a little."

Smoking Ban.

"None of us could smoke for the fifty-three hours, for there is no smoking compartment like that in R.10."

"The flight was greater than the distance to Egypt, and when we landed we had fuel in our tanks for more than 1,000 miles."

A complete examination of the airship was made by experts, and all the observations worked out and efficiency and performance figures calculated.

R.100 rests at the mooring mast. The hull is lost in the mist, which has grown denser, and the only signs of her position are the tiny lights which outline her shape, and shine like a new constellation in the blackness of the night.

"HE STOLE MY WIFE."

R.A.F. OFFICER'S OUTBURST
IN ALLEGED THEFT CASE.

An R.A.F. officer made allegations against his wife and his late commanding officer at Seabrook Police Court, Folkestone, last month.

Capt. Kennedy Gerrard Brooke, of Tinsley Worth, Crawley, Sussex, and Mrs. Grace Muriel Joan Lines, were summoned with being concerned together in stealing a silver teaset and coffee jug, a mahogany box of cutlery and several articles of household linen, to the value of £40, the property of Flying Officer F. R. Lines, R.A.F., on January 19.

Mrs. Lines is the wife of Flying Officer Lines.

Mr. B. H. Boniface, prosecuting, said Capt. Brooke had been the commanding officer of Flying Officer Lines in Egypt.

Flying Officer Lines was sent to Iraq, and there he saw in the newspapers that Capt. Brooke had been divorced by his wife, and that the woman cited was Mrs. Lines.

Lover's Letter Found.

The husband claimed leave to come home and on Mrs. Lines giving an undertaking that she would in no way communicate with Captain Brooke they became reconciled, and lived together for a short time in a bungalow at Hawkinge.

When they left this bungalow for another one the box containing the articles alleged to be stolen was placed in the regimental stores at Hawkinge. Mrs. Lines went to her home at Horley for Christmas, and the husband went to his home in London.

Mrs. Lines telephoned her husband for an attaché case, and as he had suspicions, he opened the case and found two letters from Capt. Brooke to his wife. Both letters were the foundation of divorce proceedings which had been commenced.

"Stole My Wife."

Flying Officer Lines found that Capt. Brooke had been staying at his wife's home for Christmas.

On January 19 Capt. Brooke and Mrs. Lines arrived at the guard-room at Hawkinge and obtained the articles they were accused of stealing. Mrs. Lines stated she had the authority of her husband to have the keys of the stores.

They were accompanied by an unknown woman. The articles were put in the back of his car by Capt. Brooke.

Flying Officer Lines, in the box, said he had not given his wife any authority to take the articles.

Asked in cross-examination, what motive Capt. Brooke could have to steal his goods, Flying Officer Lines replied: "He has already stolen my wife. He might steal my goods."

Mr. Medlicott, for the defence, pleaded not guilty in both cases, and asked that the case be tried by a jury.

SINISTER MARVELS.

CONDUCTED TOUR AMONG DEADLY POISONS.

In a quiet, airy room, a minute or two from the rear of Oxford-street, W., I stood before a glass case full of strange secrets—the secrets of men and women who have committed the subtle crime of murder by poisoning, writes a correspondent of a London paper.

Queerly assorted were the contents of that glass case in the Wellcome Historical Medical Museum. Side by side, with prim labels attached, lay shining articles of jewellery. Each of them has been capable of causing death—suddenly or slowly, according to the nature of the venom which the murderer had chosen.

Sir William Wilkox, the toxicologist who has been an expert witness in many murder trials, lectured at the Wellcome Museum recently, to an audience of medical men, on the subject of secret poisoning.

He showed them the chocolate sent by the poisoner Armstrong as a birthday present to a solicitor who was his professional rival. In those chocolates arsenic had been cleverly concealed.

An Hour's Tour.

Sir William spoke of a man who tried to poison his wife by giving her gin containing cyanide of potassium, and of a woman who killed her husband by placing strychnine in beer.

Afterwards he described the unique exhibits which the museum itself contains, and which I examined in a layman's tour.

That hour among the sinister marvels of the Wellcome Museum—the "fastest historical medical museum in the world"—was more fascinating than a dozen "thrilling" novels.

Human skulls grained from glass cases in the room to which I was taken by an official. We passed a long, narrow case in which lay the crouching forms of two shrivelled mummies.

As we reached the poison exhibits the official pointed through the glass at a small piece of some dark, vegetable substance, wrapped in straw. The label announced that it was a species of poison prepared by the Wandorobo tribes in East Africa.

"That quantity of this particular poison," said the official quietly, "would be sufficient to kill 50 elephants."

A tiny sealed bottle of Venetian glass stood in a corner of the case. It was filled with a colourless liquid. At one end the bottle tapered away to form a delicate stem.

There once lived a man who carried that little vessel wherever he went, so that, in a desperate emergency, he could break the stem with his teeth and swallow the colourless liquid—a deadly poison.

Deadly Daggers.

Near the little bottle were two Spanish daggers, with gracefully decorated blades and ornate handles. In the shaft of each was a groove for the reception of poison.

I saw rings arranged in neat rows. They were of gold, beautifully worked. One was marked to resemble a coiled snake; another was set with pale blue stones.

On a third a minute death's head was mounted.

Each ring contained a secret receptacle for poison, with which the wearer could take his own life—or an enemy's.

Some poisoned rings, I was told, were so designed that death could be caused by a handshake.

A concealed spring caused a sharp-pointed protuberance to appear on the outer edge of the ring, stabbing the flesh of the unsuspecting person grasping the wearer's hand. The venom with which the ring was charged began its work within a few moments.

Venom in Wine.

Antidotes to poisoning and devices by which it was hoped to detect the presence of venom in wine were in this same glass case.

Among them were cups made of rhinoceros horn, magnificently carved. The rhinoceros horn, cup, so the ancient Chinese believed, would change colour instantly if liquid placed in it contained poison.

To-day Sir William Wilkox told the learned medical men who assembled to hear him lecture—secret poisoning is a rare crime; the careful investigation of all suspected cases by the Home Office and other authorities serves to deter the would-be poisoner.

That is reassuring. But I jumped, all the same, when an acquaintance whom I met immediately after leaving the Wellcome Museum reached out his hand and grasped mine heartily.

He wore a gold ring!

FIERCE WELSH ATTACK
AT SWANSEA.

IRELAND DEFEATED.

[THRAUGHTON REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SWANSEA, March 8.

There was a gate of 40,000 at the International rugby match played here to-day, when Wales beat Ireland by 12 points to 7.

Ireland were the first to score, with a dropped goal by O'Davey from a distance of forty yards, two minutes after the start. Skym scored a try for Wales before the interval.

Half-time score: Ireland 4, Wales 3.

Fierce play and a rough and tumble ensued after the resumption. The referee had to stop and game and caution the players.

The main factor in the Welsh victory was the fierceness of their forwards. Pencock and Arthur secured tries and Bassett scored a penalty goal. The only response from Ireland was a penalty goal scored by Murray.

Prospects of England winning the International Championship are greatly enhanced as a result of this match. At the same time it destroys Ireland's hopes in that direction.

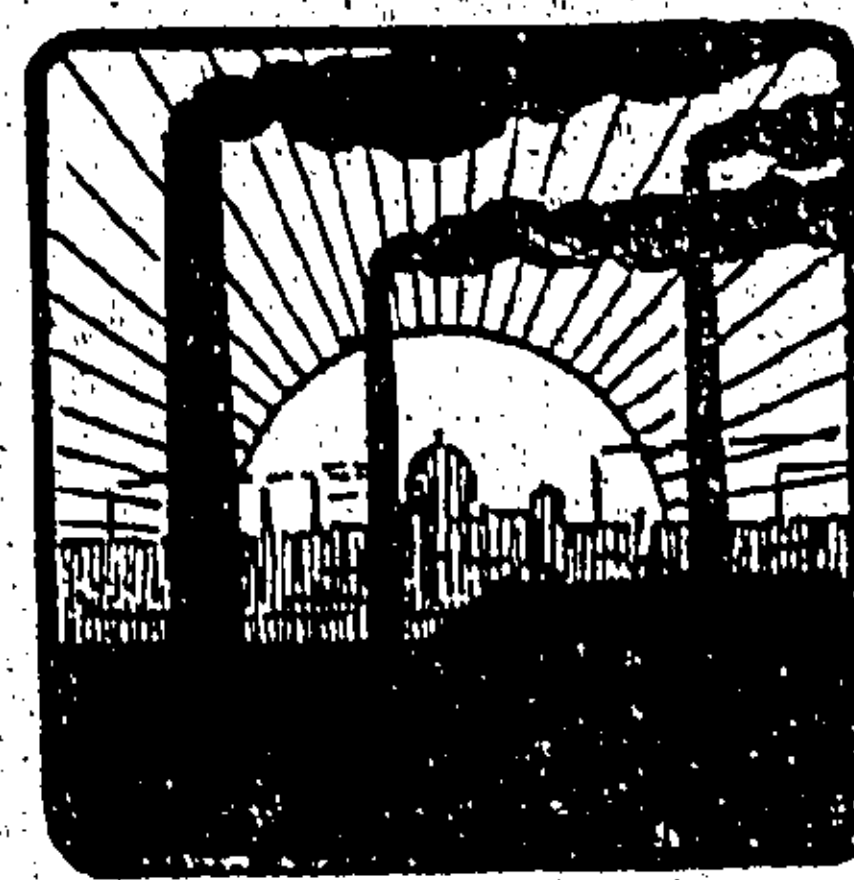

Final score: Wales 12 points (three tries, one penalty goal); Ireland 7 points (one dropped goal, one penalty goal).

OLD BEDFORDIANS' DINNER.

REFERENCE TO THE LATE SIR HENRY GOMPERTZ.

Old Bedfordians held their annual dinner in the Hong Kong Club on Saturday night. Mr. G. C. Moxon, the oldest "old boy," was in the chair, and in his speech, referred to the late Sir Henry Gompertz, a distinguished old boy.

The following were present:—Mr. G. C. Moxon, Hon. Mr. H. T. O'Connell, C.B.E., Messrs. C. R. M. Young, M. H. Roffey, E. H. Oliver, E. J. R. Mitchell, Pay-Lt. Comdr. Bolster, R.N., Dr. J. E. Dorey, Mr. W. L. Plew, Dr. J. C. Macgown, Mr. K. S. Robertson, Pay-Lt. Kennedy, R.N., Mr. T. W. Southam, and Mr. M. G. Mills.

After the toast of "The King" had been honoured, Mr. Moxon, in proposing the toast of "The School," said:—

Gentlemen, it is a far cry from 1888 when I left Bedford School to 1930, and it is entirely due to that fell disease Anno Domini, that I find myself in the honoured position of Chairman at this gathering of O. B. to-night. The mere fact of this occasion causes my mind to go back over that long stretch of time and to recall my school days at Bedford.

I must pause one moment to deplore the death of my old friend Sir Henry Gompertz. He was at Bedford with me and we both played football for the Bromham House. As probably most of you know, he only died the other day, shortly after his retirement as "Chief Justice of the F.M.S.," much beloved by all who knew him. His widow and his sons must have our deep sympathy.

A Distinguished O.B.
I much regret that a distinguished old Bedfordian is unable to be with us here to-night. I refer to Mr. Cecil Hynes, the retiring Chief Manager of that great institution, the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank. He has certainly added lustre to the record of O.B.s in the Far East.

I do not propose to bore you with a mass of statistics but I think I must briefly survey the doings of the school in the World of Sport and otherwise, for the past few years.

Until this year Bedford School only lost one school match in the last six years; they seem a little off colour this season, but I suppose they can't keep up that record without a break. We have had a Blue at either Oxford or Cambridge for the past three years and an O.B. is in the Cambridge boat this year. For three years running, Bedford won the Public School Athletic Championship at Stamford Bridge. No other school has won more than once since these sports started after the War.

Local O.B.'s Doings.
Annual school tennis tournaments were started last Autumn at the U.S.R.C. Ten schools competed. Marlborough won and we were 4th. Roffey and Mitchell played for our "A" pair and Dr. Macgown and Mills were our "B" pair, so we did not do so badly. We will win it this year!

It is a great pleasure and source of pride to all of us, I am sure, to know that the old School holds its own so well. I feel very proud that I should be permitted to preside to-night over such a gathering of O.B.s as I see around this table.

We, all of us, owe Bedford a debt of gratitude and I think when I give you the toast of Bedford School, I should add to it a silent prayer to the pious memory of Sir William Harpur and Dame Alice, his wife, as but for their foresight and generosity, Bedford School might never have existed.

FIGHTING EXPECTED IN KWANGSI.

IRONSIDES IN PAKHOI?

According to a Wuchow report, the warring factions in Kwangsi are still remaining on the defensive. More fighting is, however, expected on the West River as a section of Pei Chung Hai's Kwangsi troops have moved to Sunchow to co-operate with Wong Shiu Hung in a drive upon Mongkiang. Pei's troops on the Kwei River are holding Pinglok, Chaoaping, Hoshien and Shuntu. Their number is less than half that of the Nanking troops but they are better fighting material. Up to now, the Nanking troops have made no attempt to attack them.

The "Ironsides" in South-Western Kwangsi are unofficially reported to have captured Pakhoi, where they obtained large quantities of ammunition from smugglers. Eight fighting aeroplanes are operating on the West River and six on the Kwei River. During the past few weeks, a number of bombs were dropped on Sunchow and the neighbouring districts, several shops and residential houses, being destroyed. In Sunchow alone, over thirty shops and houses were hit and a number of people were killed. Many of the wealthier residents have left the city.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

ENOUGH FOR 5 MONTHS ON ISLAND.

SATISFACTORY POSITION.

The Water Authorities Return for last month shows that on March 1 there were 921 million gallons in the Island Reservoirs compared with 698 million gallons a year ago.

A twelve-hour rider main supply (6 a.m. to 6 p.m.) was given throughout February and the estimate consumption was 184 m.g.

At the present rate of consumption (about 6 m.g. a day) there is still over 150 days' or five months' supply at the present rate of consumption. The position is therefore quite satisfactory.

At Kowloon the supply is 394 million gallons.

MORRISON HALL DANCE.

GALSWORTHY'S "JUSTICE" IN CHINESE.

The annual concert and dance given by the Warden and members of Morrison Hall, (Hong Kong University) on Saturday night was very good indeed, and the very large number who attended, including Sir Henry Gollan, thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

The concert programme given before the dance was made up of short and enjoyable items. Miss Acheson, who gave two violin selections, was heartily applauded, and the two songs "The Cornish Floral Dance" and "Via L'Amour" were very well sung by Dr. L. T. Ride.

The students gave a Chinese sketch, an adaptation of Galsworthy's "Justice," which it proved most interesting and was well acted.

Some Morrisians made a very good attempt to quote the programme, at the hunting song "John Peel," and followed it up with "Solomon Levi."

Refreshments were served on the lawn after the concert, and dancing was enjoyed until an early hour to the excellent music of the Brunswick Dance Orchestra. The stage and dance hall decorations were very well arranged.

PRESENTATION TO COMMODORE.

During the tiffin hour a very pleasing incident took place when Capt. J. Krogh-Moe asked Mr. E. W. Carpenter, the Commodore of the Club, to accept a silver Challenge Cup presented by the Scandinavian members of the R.H.K.Y.C. for annual competition amongst the various nationalities belonging to the Club. The cup, which is of unique design, represents an old-time Danish drinking cup surmounted by a Viking ship.

Handing over the cup, Capt. J. Krogh-Moe hoped it would create a feeling of good fellowship and sportsmanship, and hoped many good races would be sailed for the cup in the future.

Accepting the cup on behalf of the R.H.K.Y.C., the Commodore, Mr. E. W. Carpenter, thanked Capt. J. Krogh-Moe, and laid emphasis on the good feeling which had always existed between the Scandinavian and British members of the Club, and hoped it would always continue. He also hoped that other nationalities represented in the Club would appreciate, that they too, were eligible to compete for the cup, and that next year more teams would be entered.

Toasts to the Scandinavian and British teams were exchanged with musical honours. The cup will be presented to the winning team at the closing cruise on Saturday, April 12.

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

Only a month ago the news was given out that Mr. TAFT had resigned the post of Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. Now comes the announcement of his death, after nearly fifty years of public service. His recent resignation of the highest judicial post in the United States came as a result of a breakdown caused by overwork, for in spite of his massive physical build, "Big Bill" was a tireless worker. The fact that at the age of 29 he became a Judge in the Superior Court of Ohio is testimony to the man's ability and energy. As to his integrity, his record stands the closest scrutiny. Mr. TAFT was not an "astute" politician; he was a typical example of the better-class American citizen who takes to politics not as a means of serving his own ends, but with an honest and sincere desire to serve his country. His last years of public office were devoted to designing plans of judicial reform whereby the working of legal machinery might be expedited, and for adding dignity to the deliberations of the Washington Courts. For more than a century the Federal Courts have had to work in cramped and uncomfortable quarters, and it was the intention of the Chief Justice to make plans for a beautiful and dignified building in which the Courts may function.

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, on September 15, 1857, and was admitted to the State Bar in 1880. For a time he acted as law reporter on two local papers, but he was an ambitious young man, and a year later secured an appointment as assistant prosecuting attorney. His progress thereafter was rapid. He became State Solicitor-General at the age of 34, Governor of the Philippines at 43, Secretary of War at 46, and President of the United States at 51. It is interesting to note that Mr. TAFT received his education in the public schools of Cincinnati, and graduated at Yale in 1878. He was the only man in the history of the United States to have held the two offices of Chief Executive and Chief Judge, being the 27th President and the 10th Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. In his younger days, Mr. TAFT was known as a brilliant lawyer; he was an able speaker, and his legal knowledge was profound. Of late years—since his appointment as head of the Supreme Court by President HARRISON in 1901—he had almost dropped out of the public eye except for a few days in 1928. He was spending the summer vacation in a little village in Quebec when the lawyers defending SACCIO and VANZETTI in the notorious case petitioned him to return to the United States to hear an application for a stay of execution of the capital sentence. Three Associate Judges of the Supreme Court having already rejected the petition, the Chief Justice declined to leave Canada and hear argument on an issue which he considered to have been finally disposed of.

Mr. TAFT won the honorable position he held in public service as a result of being appointed on his merits as a man, and not on his pull as a politician. In spite of his jovial appearance and pleasing personality, he was never in the political "game," which probably explains his defeat at the election where he sought re-election to the Presidency. The greater part of Mr. TAFT's political career was closely allied with that of ROOSEVELT. In the Republican campaign of 1908 Mr. TAFT, with the support of ROOSEVELT, won 321 electoral votes out of 489—a tremendous landslide. In 1912 he sought re-nomination for the Presidency, and he got that far, but was decisively defeated at the subsequent election, receiving only eight electoral votes out of 531. This was the year in which ROOSEVELT withdrew from the Republican party—a move which split the Republican vote most disastrously. It was during ROOSEVELT's term as President that Mr. TAFT was made Governor of the Philippines—the first man to hold that post—and he held the War Department portfolio in ROOSEVELT's Administration. During Mr. TAFT's term as President, two men remained close friends, personally and politically, but later came the rift when the restless—Rough Rider took it into his head to establish a new political party, with the disastrous result already mentioned. During his long public career Mr. TAFT came into close contact with Far Eastern problems, and his visit to Japan in 1907 is still remembered as an important event in international politics. At that time there was considerable irritation in Japan regarding the treatment of Japanese settlers in California, and it fell to Mr. TAFT to go to Japan to open the first Legislative Assembly in the Philippines—to break the Japanese American view of the situation on the Pacific Coast. During his four years of office as President of the Philippine Commission Mr. TAFT made many Filipino friends. The work he had to do was to construct an entire system of Government, and in constructing to take into consideration the super-sensitive feelings of many jealous and conflicting factions. In this difficult undertaking he showed sympathy, firmness, and tact, and although many disapproved his policy, it was generally conceded that he handled a most complicated situation with great skill. Finally, tribute must be paid to Mr. TAFT's work in the cause of international peace. In the days when that question was not so widely and eagerly discussed as it now is, Mr. TAFT was an active supporter of various movements designed to bring about international amity and understanding. He was a man of broad views and wide knowledge, and had a warm regard for the British nation and its general policy. His death will be mourned in many countries, where his name has been always associated with those qualities of character that so make an upright man, whatever his opinion or nationality.

Emerick was a contemporary of J. J. Astor. The Court decided that the Astor fortune belongs to the descendants of John Jacob Astor and not to the descendants of Emerick. The amount involved is variously estimated at from $7,800,000 to $10,000,000.

An attempt was made by a number of children on a recent Sunday afternoon to use the swings in Lammas Park, Ealing, which are chained up on that day in accordance with the Ealing Town Council's prohibition of Sunday games. The children managed to unchain one of the swings, but were stopped at their play by park-keepers. The action of the Ealing Town Council in prohibiting Sunday games was recently the subject of comment in connection with Gunnersbury Park. The Ministry of Health has stated that there is no by-law preventing Sunday play in this particular park.

"One-way" Oxford-street.

"One-way" traffic for London's famous shopping-centre, Oxford-street, is foreshadowed by an official of the Ministry of Transport. The Ministry is considering the cost of installing and working an automatic system of traffic control which employs coloured lights at important crossings. If this is prohibitive, the experimental trial will not be made in Oxford-street, and the one-way system will be proceeded with. An official of the Ministry said:—"The road tentatively chosen for one-way traffic in conjunction with Oxford-street is Wigmore-street (on the north), which runs parallel." The alternative one-way street would run from Edgware-road along Seymour-street into Wigmore-street, after crossing Baker-street, through Mortimer-street and Gough-street into Tottenham Court-road, where traffic would turn right into St. Giles's-circus at Tottenham Court-road. Last May the authorities were considering a system of automatic traffic control designed to allow continuous movement at the maximum speed from Marble Arch to Tottenham Court-road.

Christmas Day Tragedy.

How a man was found to have taken poison while a party was being held on Christmas Day was described at a Fulham inquest on Edward Watts, master builder, of Mendora Road. A daughter said that while the party was in progress her father called out to her for a cigarette. She found him in the kitchen, and he said to her:—"I've done it now." Last July her father had put his head in a gas oven. He was worried about his work. The widow said that Watts had tried to kill himself with a razor during the war. It was stated that Watts had swallowed the contents of a four-ounce bottle of poison. Mr. H. R. Oswald, the coroner, in recording a verdict of suicide during temporary insanity, told the widow that poison ought to be kept locked up, and reproved her for having left it about carelessly.

Publishers' Failure.

Under the compulsory liquidation of the Piccadilly Magazine, Ltd., the statutory meetings of creditors and shareholders were held at the London Bankruptcy Court last month. The statement of affairs filed in the proceedings showed liabilities of £28,400, of which £28,101 is unsecured, and assets £7,430. The winding-up order was made on December 24 on the petition of a creditor. The company was incorporated on December 14, 1929, with a nominal capital of £500, to carry on the business of printers, publishers, and booksellers, and particularly to publish the Piccadilly Magazine. The failure is attributed by a director to the failure of two other undertakings to carry out their promises and form another company, thus depriving this company of the necessary capital. In the opinion of the Official Receiver it was also due to the lavish and extravagant manner in which the company began business. The liquidation is in the hands of the Official Receiver.

"Soothing" Soldiers!

Considerable dissatisfaction is being expressed by foreigners in the employ of the China Merchants S. N. Co. Last week, says the N.Y. Daily News, some foreign employees received a notice of management to be deducted from their salaries. No expression of opinion had been asked from the foreign employees and the question asked:—"What right has the management to deduct such a levy from our salaries?" The position is further aggravated by the fact that salaries are much in arrears, and in some cases even the latter months of 1929 have not been paid in full. The more fortunate ones have, however, received salaries for January, but many others of even without that. With the further commandeering of vessels by the Nanking Government, employees take a very gloomy view of the future.

"Middlemen Out!"

Employees of John Howell & Co., Ltd., warehousemen, of St. Paul's Churchyard, E.C., numbering about 250, were last month given notice of dismissal. It is stated that the firm is closing down. Howell, which has been established for more than 100 years, was some time ago bought by Cook, Son & Co. (St. Paul's), Ltd., whose extensive premises are only a few doors away. Commenting on the situation, a member of another firm of warehousemen said:—"There is less room for the warehouse people nowadays. The big buyers like the stores and large shops are going straight to the manufacturer. They will not wait for their orders. The middleman is being cut out."

The plaintiff had raised the pitch three or four notes, and he considered it would be impossible for an old piano to stand such a test; it could not have remained in tune, after being raised so much, even if plaintiff left it in tune, and as he did not tell the defendant he was going to raise it, and as he (Mr. Sangster) considered it was bad judgment to do so, he did not consider the plaintiff defendant appeared willing to give him a dollar for his trouble. HOOVER ON AMERICAN UNEMPLOYMENT.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

Distress Confined to Twelve States.

WASHINGTON, March 8.

Mr. Hoover, speaking to a gathering of pressmen, said that he was convinced that the worst effects of the Stock-Market crash on business and employment would be passed within one or two months. He believed that resumption of normal activity would be encompassed by the seasonal resumption of out-of-door construction undertaken by the railways, public-utility, companies, general business and private enterprises.

Unemployment amounting to distress was confined to twelve states, conditions in the remaining states being little different from those regularly prevailing during the winter season.

Mr. Hoover estimated the actual number at present unemployed at between one third to a half of the number unemployed during the business depression of 1921-1922.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO CONCEAL FACTS.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, March 8.—A demand that the Administration should give immediate attention to the problem of the unemployed in America was voiced in a speech before the Senate to-day by Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York City.

Senator Wagner declared that statistics show that nine per cent. of the wage-earners in factories have been discharged since last October, while 10 per cent. of the union workmen in 40 representative cities of the United States were idle in January.

He alleged that the Administration was attempting to conceal the true facts of the situation, glossing it over by talk of prosperity which created a false impression.

The Administration was trying to answer the charges of critics, according to Senator Wagner, by saying that Congress' delay in enacting the tariff law hit business. Such an attitude, in his opinion, was a subterfuge.

Prior to Senator Wagner's speech the Senate referred to its Committee on Labour a resolution introduced by Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, providing for appropriation of $50,000,000 to be used by the American Red Cross and the Quartermaster General of the Army for relief of the unemployed in such manner as the Red Cross officials and the Quartermaster General shall prescribe.

War Veterans in Distress.

Senator James Couzens of Michigan declared this afternoon that thousands of World War veterans were in distress.

He said that the highest administrative authority had estimated that there are 3,300,000 unemployed persons in the United States at the present time.

Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, urged that Congress should pass the long-delayed Tariff Bill and make way for the enactment of other legislation which might help to relieve the present unemployment and general business depression.

The "Communist" Scare.

Replying to the remarks this morning of Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York City, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, independent Republican, said that the recent so-called "communist parades" were for the most part simply demonstrations asking that the unemployed should receive better treatment.

Senator Wheeler declared that Senator Wagner's "home town" of New York City has been offending all principles of law and order by lawlessness in breaking up such demonstrations. "While Grover Whalen, the Police Commissioner, is flying in Florida with the other millionaires," he said, "New York police are clubbing the workers on the steps of the City Hall."

Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr. of Wisconsin, alleged that the "red scare" is being promoted by certain interests in the United States to distract attention from the unemployment situation.

Honest Workers Misrepresented.

He charged that some of the nation's industrialists are violating made to President Hoover, by laying off men and cutting wages in spite of their pledge to maintain their businesses and pay at normal levels as part of the Administration "prosperity programme."

Senator La Follette said:—"It is perfectly obvious that there is a campaign in progress to paint honest American men and women, who are seeking employment, as 'reds.'"

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana demanded that the Senate Lobbyist Committee should call Matthew Woll, third vice-president of the American Federation of Labour, and question him concerning reports he had been spreading to the effect that Soviet Russia has sent $81,250,000 to the United States for the purpose of fomenting trouble.

"Amazingly Well Off, Considering." "It is amazing how well off we are, considering what we have been through," Mr. Thomas Lamont, the well-known banker, said to-day in a discussion of the situation of business in the United States.

Mr. Lamont expressed the opinion that business was now at its best period since last fall and that it would soon move forward again.

Conditions might be expected to be better "in a month or two," he declared, and at present conditions were "not bad."

Alleged Russian Instigation.

New York, March 8.—Ten thousand Communists are expected to stage a demonstration in Union Square on Thursday, according to plans just discovered.

Police, who have been special targets for attack by liberals and radicals, because of their roughness in breaking up recent demonstrations with extensive damage not only to the demonstrators but to newspaper reporters and bystanders as well, are taking special precautions.

Their activities include an assignment to guard a dynamite storage shed of the Bronx Construction Co., where 88 sticks of dynamite are reported to have been stolen.

Matthew Woll, third vice-president of the American Federation of Labour, sent a letter to-day to 330 leading commercial organizations of the United States, alleging that recent riots of radicals in American cities have been sponsored by the Government of Soviet Russia.

LITTLE HOPE OF AGREEMENT.

FRENCH NAVAL DEMANDS A STUMBLING-BLOCK.

BRITISH CIRCLES PESSIMISTIC.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, March 9.

There is the greatest secrecy in regard to M. Briand's talk with Mr. Henderson and Mr. Stimson to-day. It is believed that any reduction in the French naval programme will be contingent on some such guarantee as is suggested by France.

The general feeling is not optimistic, as it is felt there is little hope of the United States agreeing to participate in any such treaty which is regarded in the United States as purely a matter of European concern.

It is believed that the British are also unfavourable as it is felt in British circles that if the League of Nations, the Locarno Treaty and the Briand-Kellogg Pact are not sufficient to guarantee the security of France, very little else can be done.

Earlier Report.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, March 7.

The work of the Naval Conference was formally resumed at St. James's Palace this morning, when the heads of the delegations surveyed the whole ground and displayed determination to press on with its work as quickly as possible. The atmosphere of the Conference is favourable for such an advance. Six weeks ago, when it began, those attending the Conference were freely discussing whether the limitation of the size of capital ships and the reduction of their gun calibres could be achieved.

The tendency in authoritative British circles now is to take for granted that, if all goes well, there will be no need for the building of new capital ships before 1933. Again, a quicker scrapping programme than was envisaged by the Washington Treaty is now contemplated.

A definite advance in the work of the Conference is also marked by the removal of the question of rival global and category methods of limitation from the realm of controversy. A compromise on this subject is set out in the experts' report and embodies a skeleton table of categories, which went before the heads of the delegations to-day.

The report was in most respects approved. A communiqué issued after the meeting said: "Two closely related questions were referred back to the First Committee for further examination in the light of to-day's discussion, and the few remaining matters not settled by the report were deemed to be easier to arrange after agreement had been reached in regard to figures."

Conference at Chequers.

RUGBY, March 8.

It is understood that M. Briand is anxious that political implications in the French memorandum should be discussed by the delegates at the Naval Conference. With that in view he is seeking the foreign Secretary Mr. Arthur Henderson to-day, and will visit Chequers to-morrow to see the Prime Minister and the Foreign Secretary. The Prime Minister is broadcasting to America to-morrow evening an address on the Naval Conference which will be relayed from Chequers.

DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN PROMOTERS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, March 7.

The trustees of the United Empire Party Fund announce that it has been decided that all donations will be returned.

Work of Party to Continue.

Lord Rothermere, in a statement to the Press, says that the work of the United Empire Party, which 173,000 members of the public have so far enrolled, will by no means cease with the achievement of one of its aims, namely, the official adoption of Empire free trade by the Conservative Party, but will strive with all its resources towards the four other objectives in its programme, three at least of which Lord Rothermere believes are even more important than Empire free trade—firstly, the immediate imposition of high import duties on all manufactures with adequate subsidies for farming; secondly, ruthless public economy; thirdly, no more surrenders to India; fourthly, no diplomatic relations with Moscow.

He still hoped to see the Conservative Party come into line in these tenets, and thus the United Empire Party would be relieved of the necessity of adopting a fighting policy, including the formation of local associations with Parliamentary candidates.

A Cleavage.

Lord Beaverbrook, in reply, says that Lord Rothermere's intentions involve a complete departure from the original aims of the United Empire Party, and that Lord Rothermere is now free to develop his own political programme. Lord Beaverbrook does not go with him in that, but their close personal relations remain unaltered.

TIN SLUMPS AGAIN.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, March 7.

On the Metal Exchange to-day, there was another sharp slump in the price of tin, which fell £2 5s. to £159 7s. 6d. per ton. This is the lowest quotation for seven and a half years.

BRITISH WOOLLEN WORKERS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, March 7.

Lord Macmillan, who sat at a Court of Inquiry appointed by the Minister of Labour to investigate the wages dispute in the woollen and worsted industry, has issued his report.

He says a reduction of wages is imperative, and makes detailed suggestions for general reductions. These involve cuts of from eight to nine per cent. The employers had sought to impose reductions of 10 per cent.

Setting out the reasons for his recommendations, Lord Macmillan says that during the past five years the financial position of the industry has become progressively worse, and if manufacturers are to retain a share of the world's business, they can of themselves do only one thing, namely, reduce costs and so reduce the prices which they can quote in competitive markets.

It is proposed that men of outstanding ability and the necessary qualifications shall attend a two years' course at such College and so fit themselves for the highest posts in the police service.

HOME SECRETARY'S INTERESTING PLAN.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, March 7.

A scheme has been drawn up by Mr. J. R. Clynes, Home Secretary, and adopted in principle by the Police Council, providing for the establishment of a Police College. It is proposed that men of outstanding ability and the necessary qualifications shall attend a two years' course at such College and so fit themselves for the highest posts in the police service.

Outlining the scheme in a document to the Police Council, Mr. Clynes expressed the opinion that more should be known of technical and other developments in police work elsewhere, and advantage be taken of such developments by way of experiment and research in this country.

The Police Council is exploring the possibilities of the scheme.

ROYAL AIR FORCE ESTIMATES.

CONSOLIDATING HOME DEFENCE UNITS.

FUTURE PROGRAMMES OF R.100 AND R.101.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, March 8.

The air estimates for 1930 total £17,850,000. The estimated net expenditure for 1929 as revised to include the recent supplementary estimate of £760,000, totals £16,960,000, making an increase of £890,000.

Avoiding Competition in Air Armaments.

The increases in the Royal Air Force are small, and are designed to demonstrate the earnest desire of His Majesty's Government to avoid disastrous competition in air armaments. Hence, consolidation of the existing units for home defence force will be the main feature of the 1930 programme. The only new unit will be one non-regular squadron.

The torpedo-bomber squadron, originally formed as an experimental unit, has been reorganised for normal service duties with a view to proceeding to Singapore during the current year.

The Air Ministry has been encouraging the increase in applications for permanent commissions both from cadetship schools and the universities. There have been excellent results from Oxford and Cambridge University air squadrons, vacancies in which have been applied for twice over.

Unexpected Difficulties With R.100.

Lord Thomson, in a memorandum accompanying the air estimates, says that the trials of the airships R.100 and R.101 were satisfactory but unexpected difficulties in developing the heavy oil engine necessitated equipping the R.100 with petrol engines. She therefore, was unsuitable for navigation in the tropics.

The R.101 was equipped with the first heavy oil engine ever used as a power unit by British aircraft, but owing to difficulties in weight, etc., it was decided, in accordance with a safety-first policy, that an additional bay be inserted in the R.101 before the flight to India and back was undertaken.

A programme of overseas flights has been arranged till April, 1931, and includes the R.100 in the late Spring or Summer to fly to Montreal, and to operate in the winter between Cardington and Ismailia; the R.101 to fly to India and back in the Autumn, after which she will be used on experimental operation on the Indian route. This is essential to obtain data with a view to the establishment of a commercial service on this route.

THE COST OF EDUCATION.

INCREASE OF NEARLY £4,000,000.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, March 8.

The Board of Education estimates for 1930 amount to £45,065,653, an increase of 3,809,754 over the adjusted estimates for 1929. The total compares with £41,660,311 in 1913-14.

BANDIT OUTRAGE IN YINGTAK DISTRICT.

THREE CHINESE SISTERS NOW SAFE.

According to a report received by the Canton Government from the Yingtak magistrate, the three Chinese Sisters of the Salesian Mission of the North River District, who were kidnapped by bandits while on their way to Suifu from Ling Kong How on a pastoral visit with the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Verisigla and Father Caravara two weeks ago, have been rescued by local troops and taken back to the Mission. The body of one of the two Italian priests who were shot by the bandits was also discovered. One of the bandits alleged to be responsible for the crime has been captured and is being tried. The troops are hoping to capture the rest of the bandits.

INDEPENDENCE OR PRISON.

GANDHI'S LATEST MANIFESTO.

HIS RIGHT-HAND MAN ARRESTED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BOMBAY, March 7.

The prominent follower and disciple of Gandhi, Vallabhai Patel (brother of the Speaker in the Assembly), was sentenced at Borad to three months' imprisonment and a fine of 500 rupees, with the alternative of a further three weeks' imprisonment, for disobeying an order prohibiting public speech.

Imprisonment Welcomed.

AHMEDABAD, March 7.

On the receipt of a telegram announcing the arrest and imprisonment of Vallabhai Patel, Gandhi said that the news should be heartily welcomed. He added that he might have to revise his plans for marching with the first batch of volunteers, as he might give marching orders for to-morrow or Sunday.

Gandhi has publicly appealed to millowners and mill workers, shopkeepers and all citizens, to observe a peaceful "hartal" (complete cessation of work) on March 8, to "celebrate the incarceration of the uncrowned King of Gujarat"—Patel.

A Complete "Hartal."

AHMEDABAD, March 8.

In response to Gandhi's appeal, a complete "hartal" is being observed in the city to-day to celebrate the arrest of Vallabhai Patel. There are only a few Mohammedan shops open. The police have taken precautions against any disturbances.

Gandhi has abandoned the idea of starting the Civil Disobedience march to-day or to-morrow, and adheres to his original programme to start on March 12.

Gandhi's Orders to Villages En Route.

AHMEDABAD, March 8.

On the eve of his arrest, Vallabhai Patel sent a message to the people of Gujarat hoping they would heartily welcome his imprisonment as being the first step in the commencement of this war, and declaring:—"Our success lies in our capacity for non-violence, self-sacrifice, and the sooner we acquire the capacity to cease all relations with the Government, the earlier we shall succeed." The message also says:—"If there is the least wisdom in the Government, it will not arrest a holy man like Gandhi."

Gandhi has issued orders by which the march of Civil Disobedience Volunteers proposes to leave on Wednesday with a hundred volunteers, but the final list is not yet ready. Gandhi has also sent elaborate instructions to each village along the route where the marchers halt, stating that the party expects to be provided with food and shelter.

Swaraj by Non-violence.

AHMEDABAD, March 9.

A large meeting on the river bank, presided over by Gandhi, adopted a resolution declaring that the followers of Gandhi will attain Swaraj, or go to jail. They are of the opinion that the freedom of India is attainable by non-violent and peaceful means.

Gandhi Waits for Arrest.

PARIS, March 9.

Le Matin publishes an interview with Gandhi in which he declares that he has fixed no limits for the campaign of civil disobedience. Gandhi says:—"The only bounds my followers must not overstep are those of violence. We will carry on until we have won independence or are in prison."

"My Thought Is Paralyzed."

Gandhi in an interview, when asked what he thought of the Viceroy's reply to his "ultimatum" in which Lord Irwin indicated that the Government must protect the success of Gandhi's policy would entail, replied:—"I do not think at all; my thought is paralyzed or rather I have deliberately stopped myself thinking of such hypothetical consequences. Red ruin, revolution and the breaking up of laws would be preferable to the present state of affairs, for these disasters happen to us daily in the name of the Government and public order." Gandhi thought he might be arrested at any moment.

Bengal Asked to Join.

Gandhi has sent a message to Bengal through Satindra Nathsen, the leader of the passive resistance movement in the Barisal district, exhorting Bengal to compose its differences and start Civil Disobedience.

SOUTH CHINA AND ROYAL NAVY DRAW AFTER EXTRA TIME.

R.A. HOLD CHINESE ATHLETIC AT SOOKUNPOO.

By taking a point from the Chinese Athletic in the senior game at Sookunpo, the R.A. did the Royal Navy and S.L.I. a good turn. It is possible for the S.L.I. to top the league but they have a very strenuous programme of six more games, in addition to the Shield final. The Royal Navy have a very easy league programme and are still interested in the Shield. The question of the moment is—Will the Royal Navy get the double? They have to play Kowloon and the Hong Kong Police only. Chinese Athletic are still in the running but they have to meet Kowloon, Somerset L.I. and South China.

Saturday's games resulted as under:—

SOUTH CHINA v. ROYAL NAVY.

This Shield semi-final was played on the Hong Kong F.C. ground and ended in a goalless draw after extra time.

The Royal Navy put up a fine defence in the absence of Jones and McGregor, and as H.M.S. Kent is likely to be in port when the replay takes place, the Royal Navy should not go down. South China took the field without Li Ting Sang, their right back, but Tam Kong Pak was a good substitute. The teams lined out as under:—

South China: Pau Ka Ping, Tam Kong Pak and Lau Mau; Leung Yin Chan, Wong Mee Shun and Leung Wing Tak; Chen Shui Hon, Pau Ka Ling, Pau Ka Chuen, Ip Pak Wah and Ip Yan Sum.

Royal Navy: Jarvis, Cordery and Ward; Timberlake, Hughes and Evans; Thompson, Gray, Peacock, Potts and Hiscok.

Referee: Mr. W. E. Hollands. The opening exchanges favoured South China, but there was little between the teams. The forwards were unsteady in front of goals and several chances were lost by erratic shooting. Half-time, no score.

The second half opened with a strong attack by South China, but the Navy defended soundly, Jarvis clearing well. The Navy then held the upper hand and South China showed signs of falling off, but they kept their goal intact.

All through extra time Pau Ka Ping had a busy time in goal. The Navy was busy finding their shooting backs but South China put their backs to the wall and defended soundly.

Result:—
South China 0
Royal Navy 0

Referee: Mr. F. Smith. Kowloon got away from the place kick but from a well judged centre by Butcher, Knapp beat Angus.

Kowloon then took up the attack and a closely fought half saw no further scoring.

Kowloon made the first attack in the second half but the S.L.I. soon got moving and with Angus out of goal, Earley sent the ball into the net.

Early made the game safe for the S.L.I. when he took a pass from Butcher and gave Angus no chance from close range.

Being three down, Kowloon made a final rally but were held by a sound defence.

From a pass by Lee Fong, Lo Hing Ching, beat Verrier from close range.

Half-time, Chinese Athletic "B" 2, S.L.I. Res. 0.

CLUB SECONDS HEAD TABLE.

TWO CENTURIES ON SATURDAY.

Only two league matches were decided over the week-end, and both were in the junior division. The Hong Kong Cricket Club scored a three wicket victory over their rivals, the Police Recreation Club, and now head the table with the maximum number of points for the eight matches they have played. In this match, H. J. Armstrong scored 100, not out, and he was mainly responsible for the Club's win.

The other fixture was between the R.A.O.C. and the Indian R.C. juniors. The latter won easily.

The annual match between "Wayfoong" (Hong Kong Bank) and "Ewo" (Jardine's) resulted in a win for the latter. There were a few friendships and in the Kowloon Civil Service affair, "Ernie" Fincher knocked up a brilliant 103 not out.

The Club started disastrously but a fine innings for 100, not out, by Armstrong pulled the game out of the fire and they went on to make 155 runs. For the Police Alexander took 4 wickets for 42 runs while Post, going on late, took 3 for 23.

BRITISH WINE TRADE BOOM.

PREFERENTIAL DUTY BENEFITS.

British wine-making is fast becoming one of the "boom" industries of England. It has resurrected itself in the past three years. Mr. Churchill's 1927 Budget gave a preference to British and Empire wines. British-made wines pay a duty of 1s. 6d. a gallon only, while some foreign wines pay up to 2s. a bottle.

Only a small quantity of wine was made in Great Britain before 1927, but 3,000,000 gallons were made in 1928-29, and more than £200,000 went into the Exchequer.

More than 100 new firms have entered the British wine-making industry since 1927 and some millions of capital have been invested. The cheaper kinds of British wines are made from dried grapes imported, duty free. These grapes are fermented by a special process and used in the manufacture of red and white wines which find a ready sale in industrial areas.

SEEKING PERIL AND GOLD.

MAYFAIR GIRL'S TREASURE-HUNT.

"TIRED OF PARTIES."

A beautiful girl who is "tired of parties" intends to seek danger, gold and diamonds in a treasure-hunting expedition which left London for British Guiana recently. She is Miss Joan Arbuthnot, and she is a partner in a syndicate which includes Major and Mrs. Blake, Miss Leigh-White, and Col. Bridges, all well known in London social circles.

Miss Arbuthnot finds romance, despite the prospect of swamps, flies and damp heat, adventure attracts her more than the vision of another London season.

Through the Primeval Forest. "I wondered if a new sort of life might not be amusing. I would like to experience a life with a certain amount of danger in it, one that cannot be undertaken as a 'lark,' and that means really hard work."

"We shall probably go out separately to Georgetown, and take boats from there up through the heart of the primeval forest. That part of the journey will take about 45 days, and during that time we shall have to clear a space in the undergrowth every night before we can pitch our tents. I shall wear slacks, and shirts and fieldboots. All my kit will pack into a small, square tin canister, because we have to economise in space."

Where Raleigh Sailed. "It is a queer coincidence that Sir Walter Raleigh, who owned the house in Queen Elizabeth's day where my family now live in Ireland, once sailed up the very rivers where we are going to sail."

"Perhaps I have been bitten by the same love of South America that got Sir Walter! But I hope I shall get further than he did. He had to turn back."

"British Guiana is almost the last field left for treasure-seekers. I am not sure of the procedure, but I think you stake out the claim where you want to dig for gold and diamonds, and then you pay a royalty on what you find—if you find anything!"

"But my uncle and aunt (Major and Mrs. Blake) know all about that. One of the minor problems of the party is selection of the literature and gramophone records that shall lighten the six months or a year that the party expects to be away. Shakespeare's Complete Works are at present a hot favourite."

NEW POLICE ORDER DIFFICULTIES.

MAGISTRATES WITHOUT DOCTORS' REPORTS.

"The less I say the better about the new regulation, but I see any number of difficulties that I am going to encounter," remarked Mr. H. C. A. Bingley, the magistrate, at the Marylebone Police Court last month.

Mr. Bingley was referring to the new order of the Commissioner of Police, under which, since January 20, doctors' reports about prisoners are not attached to the charge sheets, and are therefore withheld from the magistrates.

The new method is for the doctors to report their findings to the accused persons in the presence of the police who had arrested them. This was done in two cases heard by Mr. Bingley, in both of which the accused person denied being drunk. A constable said in the first case that he thought the doctor said that the man had more drink than was good for him.

Help Out Of.

Mr. Bingley: That does not necessarily mean he was drunk. This is one of the disadvantages of the new order. Up to the present, I have been able to see the doctor's report when a man has pleaded not guilty. Now that help is cut off—unless I call the doctor and incur extra expenses.

The man eventually pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay 10s. 6d., the doctor's fee.

Mr. Bingley remarked in the second case: "The policeman says you were drunk; you say you were not. How can I decide? I have no doctor's report now under the new arrangement."

The man eventually pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay the doctor's fee, 10s. 6d.

A man suffering from an injury to his head appeared before Mr. Bernard Campion, K.C., magistrate at the Thames Court, on Saturday on a charge of drunkenness.

"No Good."

Mr. Campion questioned a policeman regarding the injury and received a slip of paper.

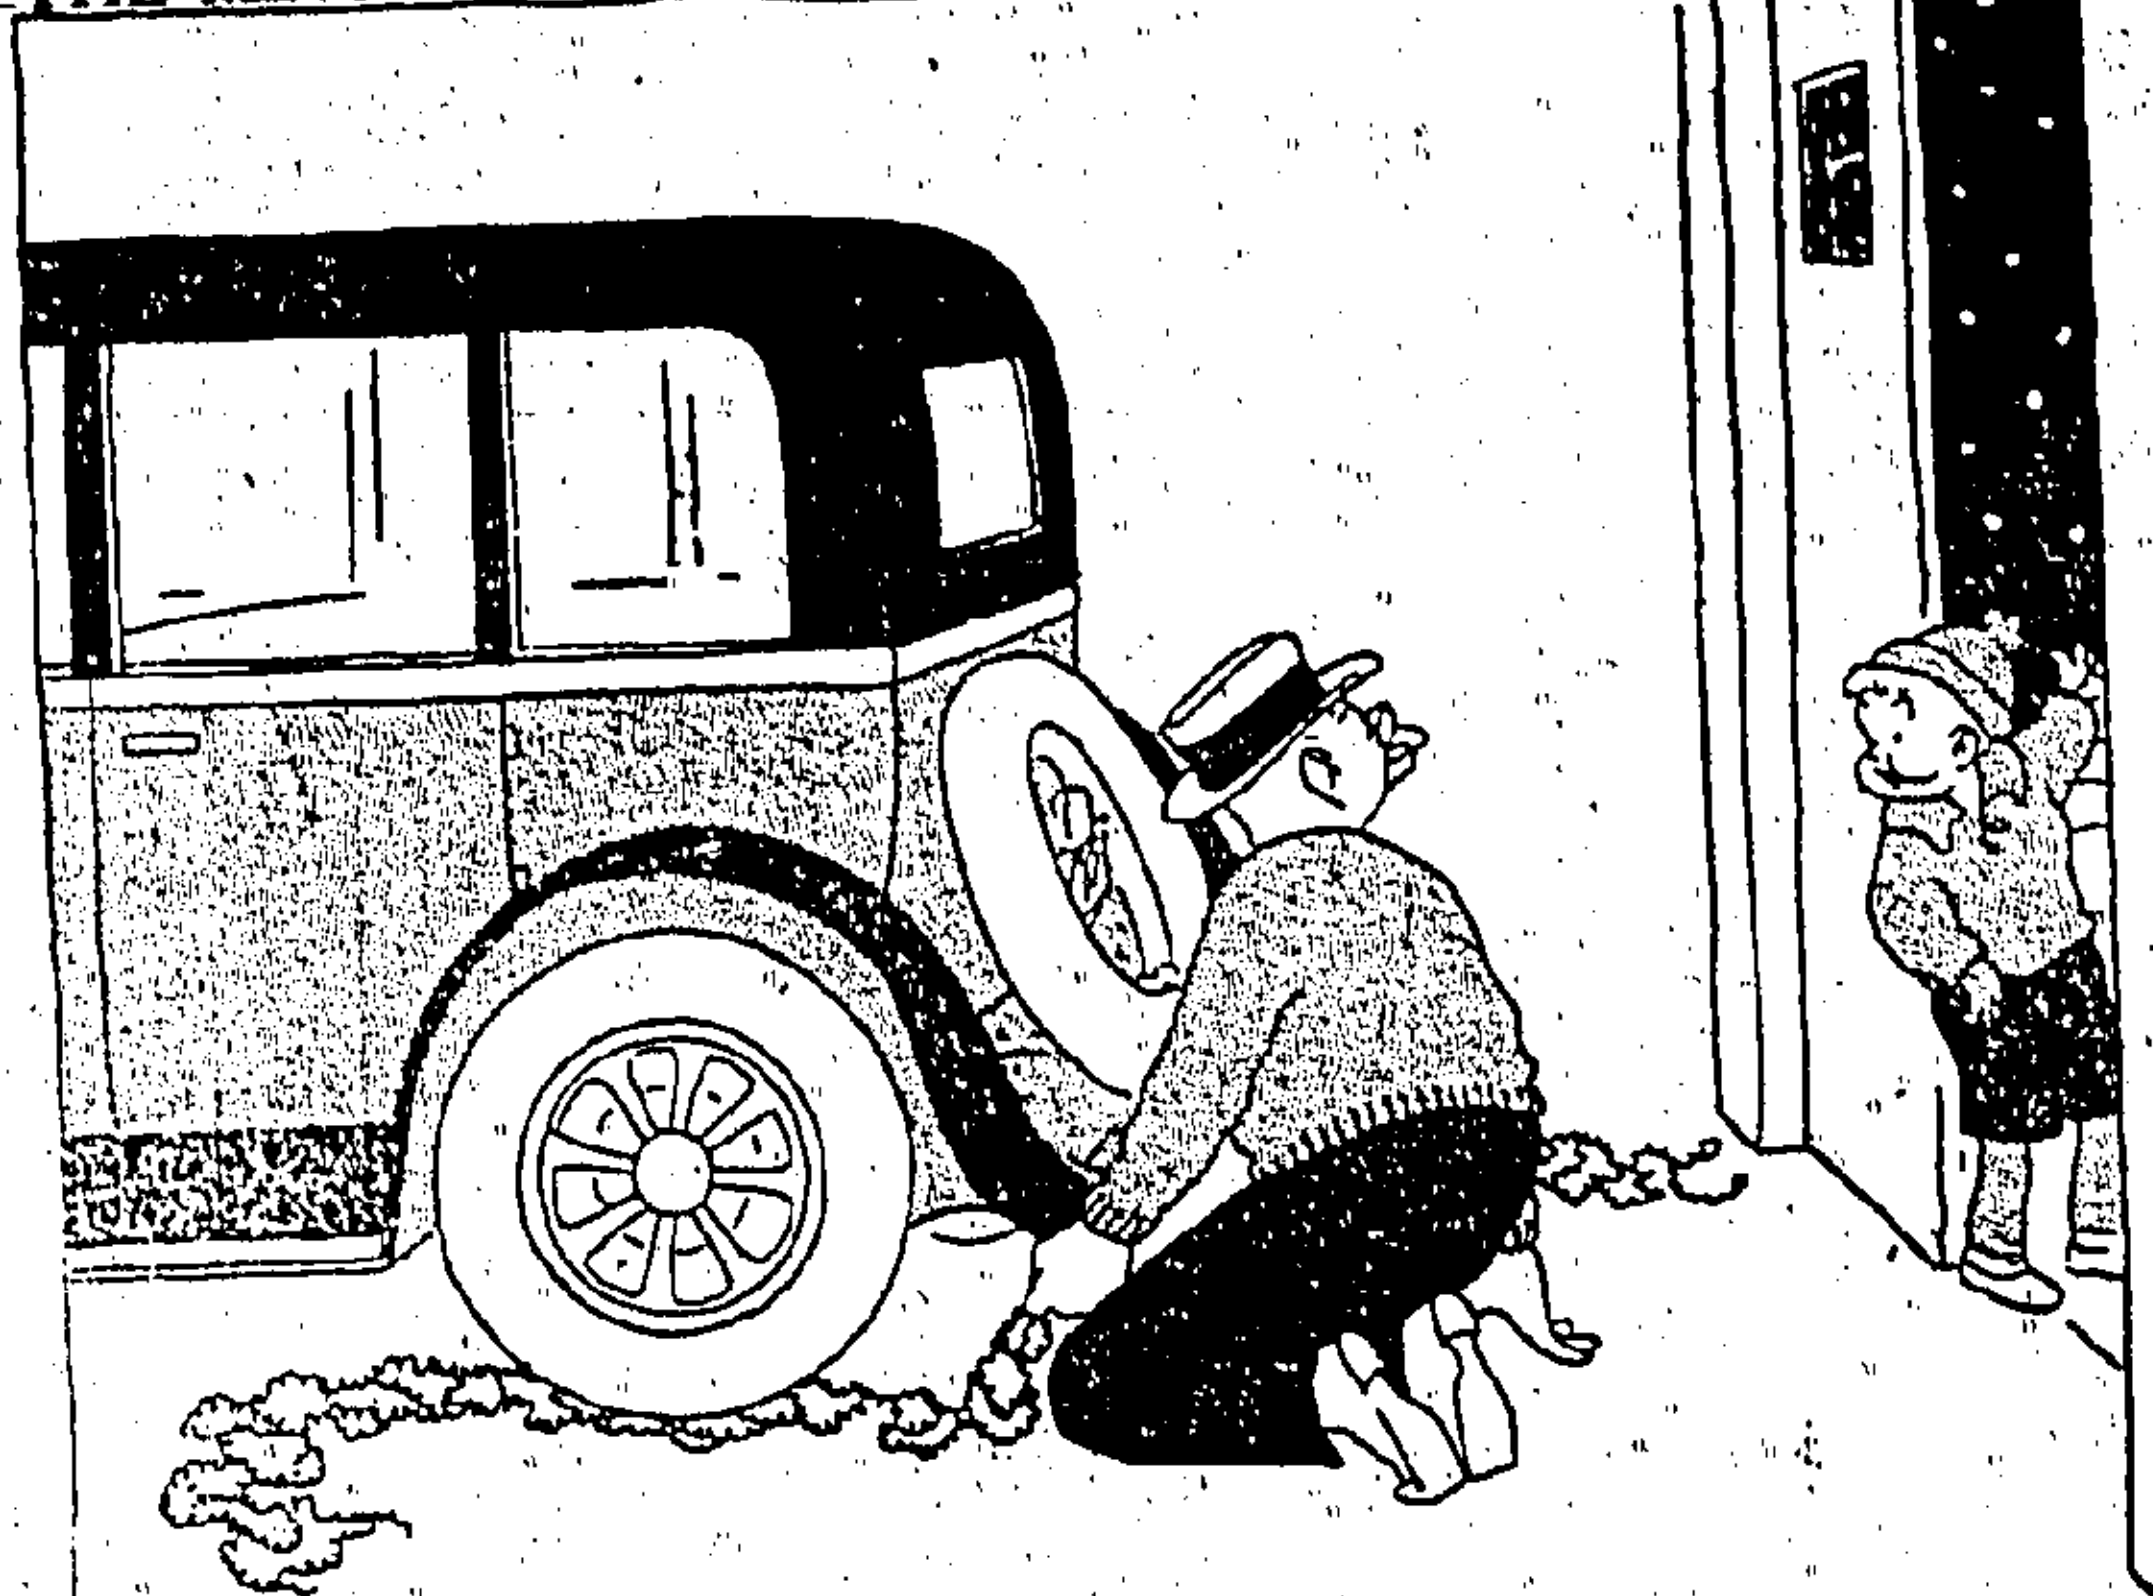

"This is not a report," said Mr. Campion. "It simply says that the doctor is charging 5s. This is no good to me. This man has pleaded guilty, and I am entitled to know what the surgeon found—the nature of the wound—but I am left without information from the police that I can rely on."

"It would be more convenient if the old practice were followed of placing on the charge sheet an extract from the doctor's report."

The man, who had been in the cells all night, was discharged.

TOUGH HANDFUL FOR CARNERA.

ITALIAN BOXER BADLY BATTERED.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Philadelphia, Mar. 3.—Primo Carnera, the 250-lb. boxing behemoth from Italy, met the first resistance of his American invasion here to-night when "Ace" Clark succeeded in staying six rounds of a scheduled 10 round battle. It wound up with a knock-out for Clark, but there was a lot of bad news for Carnera before that stage of the brawl was reached.

Carnera took a severe beating in the early stages of the fight, showing the lack of experience and slowness which critics had charged without much opportunity heretofore of proving their contentions because of the string of some half-dozen "setups" with which Carnera has been provided thus far.

In the fourth round Carnera planted his size 20 shoes firmly on the floor, swung heavily and put Clark on the canvas for a count of nine. It looked like the finish right then, but Clark thought otherwise.

He climbed to his feet stayed out the remainder of the round, and in the fifth round he came back and swarmed all over Carnera. By the end of the round the Italian was so beaten about the face that both his eyes were closed.

Rapid first-aid work by Carnera's seconds sent him out in shape to see what it was all about once more and in the course of the sixth round he delivered a terrible right to Clark's stomach, knocking him out beyond the possibility of argument.

PHIL SCOTT'S PROTEST DISALLOWED.

Miami, Fla., March 3.—The Boxing Commission announced to-day that it would not take any action in connection with the complaint lodged by Phil Scott's manager, Johnston, against the referee in the bout here between Scott and Jack Sharkey last Thursday. Johnston denounced the referee, Lou Magnolia, as incompetent and officially protested against the decision given by him adjudging Sharkey the winner on a technical knockout. This complaint was lodged on the ground that Sharkey had fouled Scott.

The Boxing Commission, in giving its judgment on the matter, said that the decision of the referee would stand.

Dempsey Ready to Fight Again.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Cleveland, March 3.—Although suffering from neuritis, the former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey announced to-day that he will return to the ring in the event that Max Schmeling, the "German Dempsey," and Primo Carnera, newly-imported giant from Italy, are able to defeat the best of the American crop of heavy-weights. This, he believes, is highly improbable.

BABY ROCKED AT THE ALTAR.

13TH CENTURY CUSTOM REVIVED.

A white-robed infant, the first-born child of Walter Masfield, a miner, was the central figure of an old-world ceremony at the village church of Blidworth, Nottinghamshire, recently, when he was dedicated and rocked in a wooden cradle at the altar.

The custom of rocking a baby in the church on Candlemas Sunday goes back to the thirteenth century, and has been revived by the vicar, the Rev. John Lowndes. It is unique in the British Isles, and symbolises the Bible story of the presentation of the child Christ in the Temple.

Dedication.

The parents brought their baby to the church, and during the service kept their stand by the altar steps. The vicar received the child from the mother's arms, presented it before the altar, named it Walter Henry, and dedicated its life to the service of God, adding: "May thou never be ashamed to confess the faith of Christ; may thou manfully fight against sin, the world, and the devil, and continue Christ's faithful servant until life ends."

Then the vicar placed the child in the cradle, which he rocked several times, afterwards lifting out the little one and handing it back to the mother.

"I did not want to go in, as we were splashed with mud, but we hoped to get a wash."
"We sat at a table and, after refusing a cocktail, were given a glass of port. I did not drink it, as it did not taste like port."
"After about ten minutes we went out and as it was raining we sat in a saloon car for shelter."
"A few minutes later Short and Collins came out and we got back into Short's car. Short was in the driver's seat, and I sat beside him. Miss Robbins and Collins were in the back."
"I had my head down on my chest as it was raining and the car had no hood. I can remember just shooting off, but nothing afterwards."

DAILY WATERFRONT NEWS.

THE TETUZAN MARU.

"SO FAR, SO GOOD."

The Henry Kewick-Kowloon

Dock's rescue tug—which went to the assistance of the Tetuzan

Maru, returned to the Colony on Saturday afternoon.

Seen by a Daily Press representative, the master of the tug said that when they got to the Tetuzan Maru (she grounded in Rainier Straits recently) the weather was so bad that it was impossible to send a diver down to examine her bottom. She was not leaking and has gone to Swatow to discharge a cargo of coal.

The Tetuzan Maru, it is believed, will return to Hong Kong shortly when she will be given a thorough examination.

A New Arrival.

The President Fillmore, which paid her first visit to this port on Saturday is the old Mongolia, and son, which again is the old Manchuria.

arrived from San Francisco and

Shanghai, had on board 799 tons of general cargo for Hong Kong and 3,394 tons for through ports.

She has twin-screw reciprocating

A. Ahman is in command. 118

Europeans and 108 Asiatics composed the crew.

Owned by the Dollar Steamship
